

Love is Everything

There's a rising sun
On an empty bed
It seems you couldn't sleep I guess
That worried heart
That busy head
The words we never said

Everything that hurts
Leaves a mark
Some are wounds and some are scars
Some we bear to light the dark
They're all part of who we are

And I know you feel so lonely
Adrift without a boat
When everything is sinking
Love will stay afloat

We never know how deep the blue
How long the night for getting through
When you need me, and I need you
Love is what we do

And still you can feel so lost and lonely
When everything is sinking
Love will stay afloat

*A nervous boy on bended knee
An open door to a refugee
The world is made of many things called love*

Love is what the neighbours bring
It lifts us up and makes me sing
Love is what tomorrow brings
Love is everything
Love is what you mean to me
Love is everything...
